

Who is LEO?

There are more than 900,000 sworn law enforcement officers now serving in the United States, which is the highest figure ever.

About 12% of those are female.

25 - 30% of state and local police officers have four year degrees.

Most law enforcement officers never fire their guns outside of the pistol range.

K9 LEOs live with their handlers while on duty and after retirement.

They bond for life with their handlers and will always be part of the police family. Their handler feeds, grooms and takes care of the dog like they are their own pet.

K9 LEOs are trained to sniff out electronics such as hard drives or thumb drives. Some dogs can even locate a thumb drive hidden four layers deep inside of a tin box in a metal cabinet.

The use of drones help aid agencies in potentially dangerous situations. They roam the skies helping with rescue missions and finding lost children.

LEOs have the ability to track a suspect vehicle through GPS. It attaches to the suspect's vehicle reducing the need for police pursuits.

LEOs have special flashlights that are designed to detect hair, fibers, and body fluids at crime scenes.
